

Subject: Update on Manon Perron Skating Camp

Date: Thursday, January 15th 2015

Hello Coaches,

This email is to provide an update on preparations for the skating camp with Manon Perron, which is in just over two weeks time.

So far, we have far more interest in the camp than expected.

- At this point all of the private lessons have been booked. However, we are looking at the possibility of providing extra private lessons on Wednesday morning from 6:45am to 9:15am. If you have students that are interested could you encourage them to let us know as we need to know the level of interest to pursue this further.
- There is currently still space available for students to participate in group lessons. However, these are also running out quickly, so if you would like your students to attend, then you will need urge them to sign up soon.

We have also had a lot of interest from coaches wishing to attend.

- Originally, we thought that it would be possible for coaches to be on the ice when their students were participating in classes, but with the greater than expected level of interest, it is likely that coaches may be restricted to standing at the barrier.
- For coaches that are wishing to attend the camp, and haven't yet done so, could they please visit the club website to sign up (see below) - ticking the coaches box to be exempt from payment.
- On Monday there will be a "coaches only" session with Manon (8:10am - 11:00am). This is also provided to coaches for free, but will require that you have signed up to the camp.
- As part of signing up to the camp we would like coaches to be available to help out with coaching sessions that will run concurrently with Manon's sessions.

Let us know if you have any further questions by emailing camp.contact@silverblades.org.au

Regards,

Stephanie Huot
